

SECTION 1 — Basic SQL Queries

1. View the first 10 records from the table.
2. Count the total number of loan applications.
3. List all unique property areas.
4. Show all applicants who are self-employed and have an income above 5000.
5. Find the total number of approved loans.

SECTION 2 — Aggregation & Grouping

6. Find average loan amount by education level.
7. Find average total income (Applicant + Coapplicant) by marital status.
8. Show average loan amount by credit history.
9. Find total applications and approval rate by gender.
10. Show approval rate by property area.

SECTION 3 — Filtering & Conditions

11. Show applicants who are graduates, not self-employed, and have loan amount greater than 150.
12. Display approved loans from urban area with good credit history.
13. List top 5 applicants with highest total income.

SECTION 4 — Derived Columns & CASE WHEN

14. Create derived columns for total income for each applicant.
15. Classify applicants into income groups (Low, Medium, High) based on applicant income.
16. Find average loan amount for each income group.

SECTION 5 — Subqueries & Nested Analysis

17. Find applicants whose loan amount is greater than the overall average loan amount.
18. Identify the property area with the highest average total income.
19. List all applicants whose income is above the average income of their education category.

SECTION 6 — Window Functions

20. Rank applicants based on total income (highest income rank = 1).
21. Show average loan amount per property area using a window function.
22. Calculate approval rate by education using grouping or window function.

SECTION 7 — Business Insights & Combined Analysis

23. Compare approval rate by credit history and education level to find which combination performs best.

24. Find the combination of property area and education with the highest approval rate.
25. Compare approval rate for self-employed vs non-self-employed applicants by credit history.